

Transforming Workplace Drama with the Power of TED

The 3 Vital Questions®

Trainer Certification

November 19-21, 2019

Dallas, Texas

"What's Going on Around Here?"

Interpersonal conflicts. Gossip. Infighting. Siloed behavior. Enemies and allies. Excessive meetings. Meetings before the meeting. Meetings after the meeting. Defensiveness. Sarcasm. Doing just enough work to not get fired. People bringing their worst to work.

These are the symptoms of Workplace Drama.

But life at work doesn't have to be this way. Deeply asking and answering the three vital questions will transform your workplace and create healthy teams and empowered leaders.

Do You Feel Called to Transform Workplace Drama?

Becoming a Certified 3 Vital Questions (3VQ) Trainer will prepare you to serve your clients and customers – whether internal or external – in learning the 3VQs and applying them in their work and lives.

The people you serve will be empowered to focus on desired outcomes rather than problems and avoid getting caught in the Dreaded Drama Triangle (DDT) that so often sabotages our success in the workplace and in our lives.

Based on David Emerald's book, 3 Vital Questions: Transforming Workplace Drama, this training "transcends and includes" the frameworks, tools and practices introduced in his bestselling book on TED* (*The Empowerment Dynamic)®.

You will be certified to take the 3VQs into the classroom, meeting room, and in working with individuals, teams and organizations. You will support their development in adopting a Creator Orientation, enhance their capabilities as Creator, Challenger and Coach, and to plan for, and take, the Baby Step actions that serve their creating and achieving results.
